

bets nordeste apostas online

On Wednesday, the shortlist was released for another of football's most prestigious prizes – a place in the FIFPro World XI – and again only one Liverpool player made the cut. This time, it was Virgil van Dijk rather than Salah.

READ MORE: Liverpool transfer news as Jürgen Klopp leads midfielder race amid Kylian Mbappé's hope

READ MORE: Liverpool submits £33m defender bid as Kylian Mbappé breaks silence on next transfer move

His subsequent return of 14 goals in 19 games for Saudi Pro League side Al-Nassr was impressive on paper but, as Twenty First Group analyst Aurel Nazmiu noted at the time, that division sat somewhere between League One and League Two in quality. That has not substantially changed since and Ronaldo's inclusion is therefore baffling.

On that basis, it's egregious that Ronaldo features on the shortlist, and it's pretty clear that he's only there on the basis of his pre-existing global reputation. Some would question how much all of this really matters compared to team success, and whether Liverpool supporters should really care. Jürgen Klopp and those that matter, after all, already know exactly what the Egyptian offers.

That Accentuation Of The hipster is a dekey feature with an estilo! Highwaistse asres go -to; Whenderas pard dos jeeis (6 , £ capris Orbets nordeste apostas) Tj T* B