We meet a few weeks before the start of the World Cup. He's beginning to think about it. But in the typical De Bruyne fashion he dispenses with diplomacy and tells it as it is. No, he's not happy about it, being in Qatar. Yes, it is a distraction from the Premier League. No, he doesn't think Belgium have much chance of winning.

Now he's out there hoping to prove himself wrong.

At his best on the pitch, virtually everything is channelled through him. Often he will start a move by winning the ball and running with it in the same movement. Though he plays in the centre, he sets up goals by overlapping on the wing to put in crosses of such pace, swerve and accuracy that they are impossible to defend. And while goal-scoring isn't his main thing (he pr) commentator Alistair Mann quivered: Kevin, stop it! I'm running out of superlatives for you!

In 2024, De Bruyne became the first City men's player to win the prestigious PFA Player of the Year, and won it again the following season. In September, he was named the world's best passer in the video game Fifa 23. Earlier this month, the game Football Manager 2024 ranked him the greatest player in the world.

De Bruyne doesn't run with the football pack. We never see him out getting into trouble. In fact, we pretty much never see him. Which makes today even stranger. But it also makes a kind of sense. Away from football, it's all about family, he says. This is my life.
