My directorial debut and based on his 2008 Argentine short film Mam. The film stars Chastain, Nikolaj Coster-Waldau, and Fantasia Barré. The film is a comedy-drama about a woman who is a single mother and a former professional dancer who is struggling to make ends meet. She is forced to work as a stripper to support her family. The film is a powerful and emotional story that explores themes of love, loss, and redemption.

As a former professional dancer, I know the industry and the challenges it presents. I have seen many dancers struggle to make a living and maintain their careers. I wanted to tell a story that was both realistic and inspiring. I wanted to show the dedication and hard work that goes into the industry, but also the sacrifices and the struggles that come with it. I wanted to create a character who was relatable and who could inspire others to pursue their dreams.

I started by researching the industry and talking to dancers. I wanted to understand the culture and the challenges they face. I wanted to create a story that was both authentic and compelling. I wanted to create a character who was relatable and who could inspire others to pursue their dreams.
